

Time-tested

Add elegance to your next building exterior with these five ceramic facade products

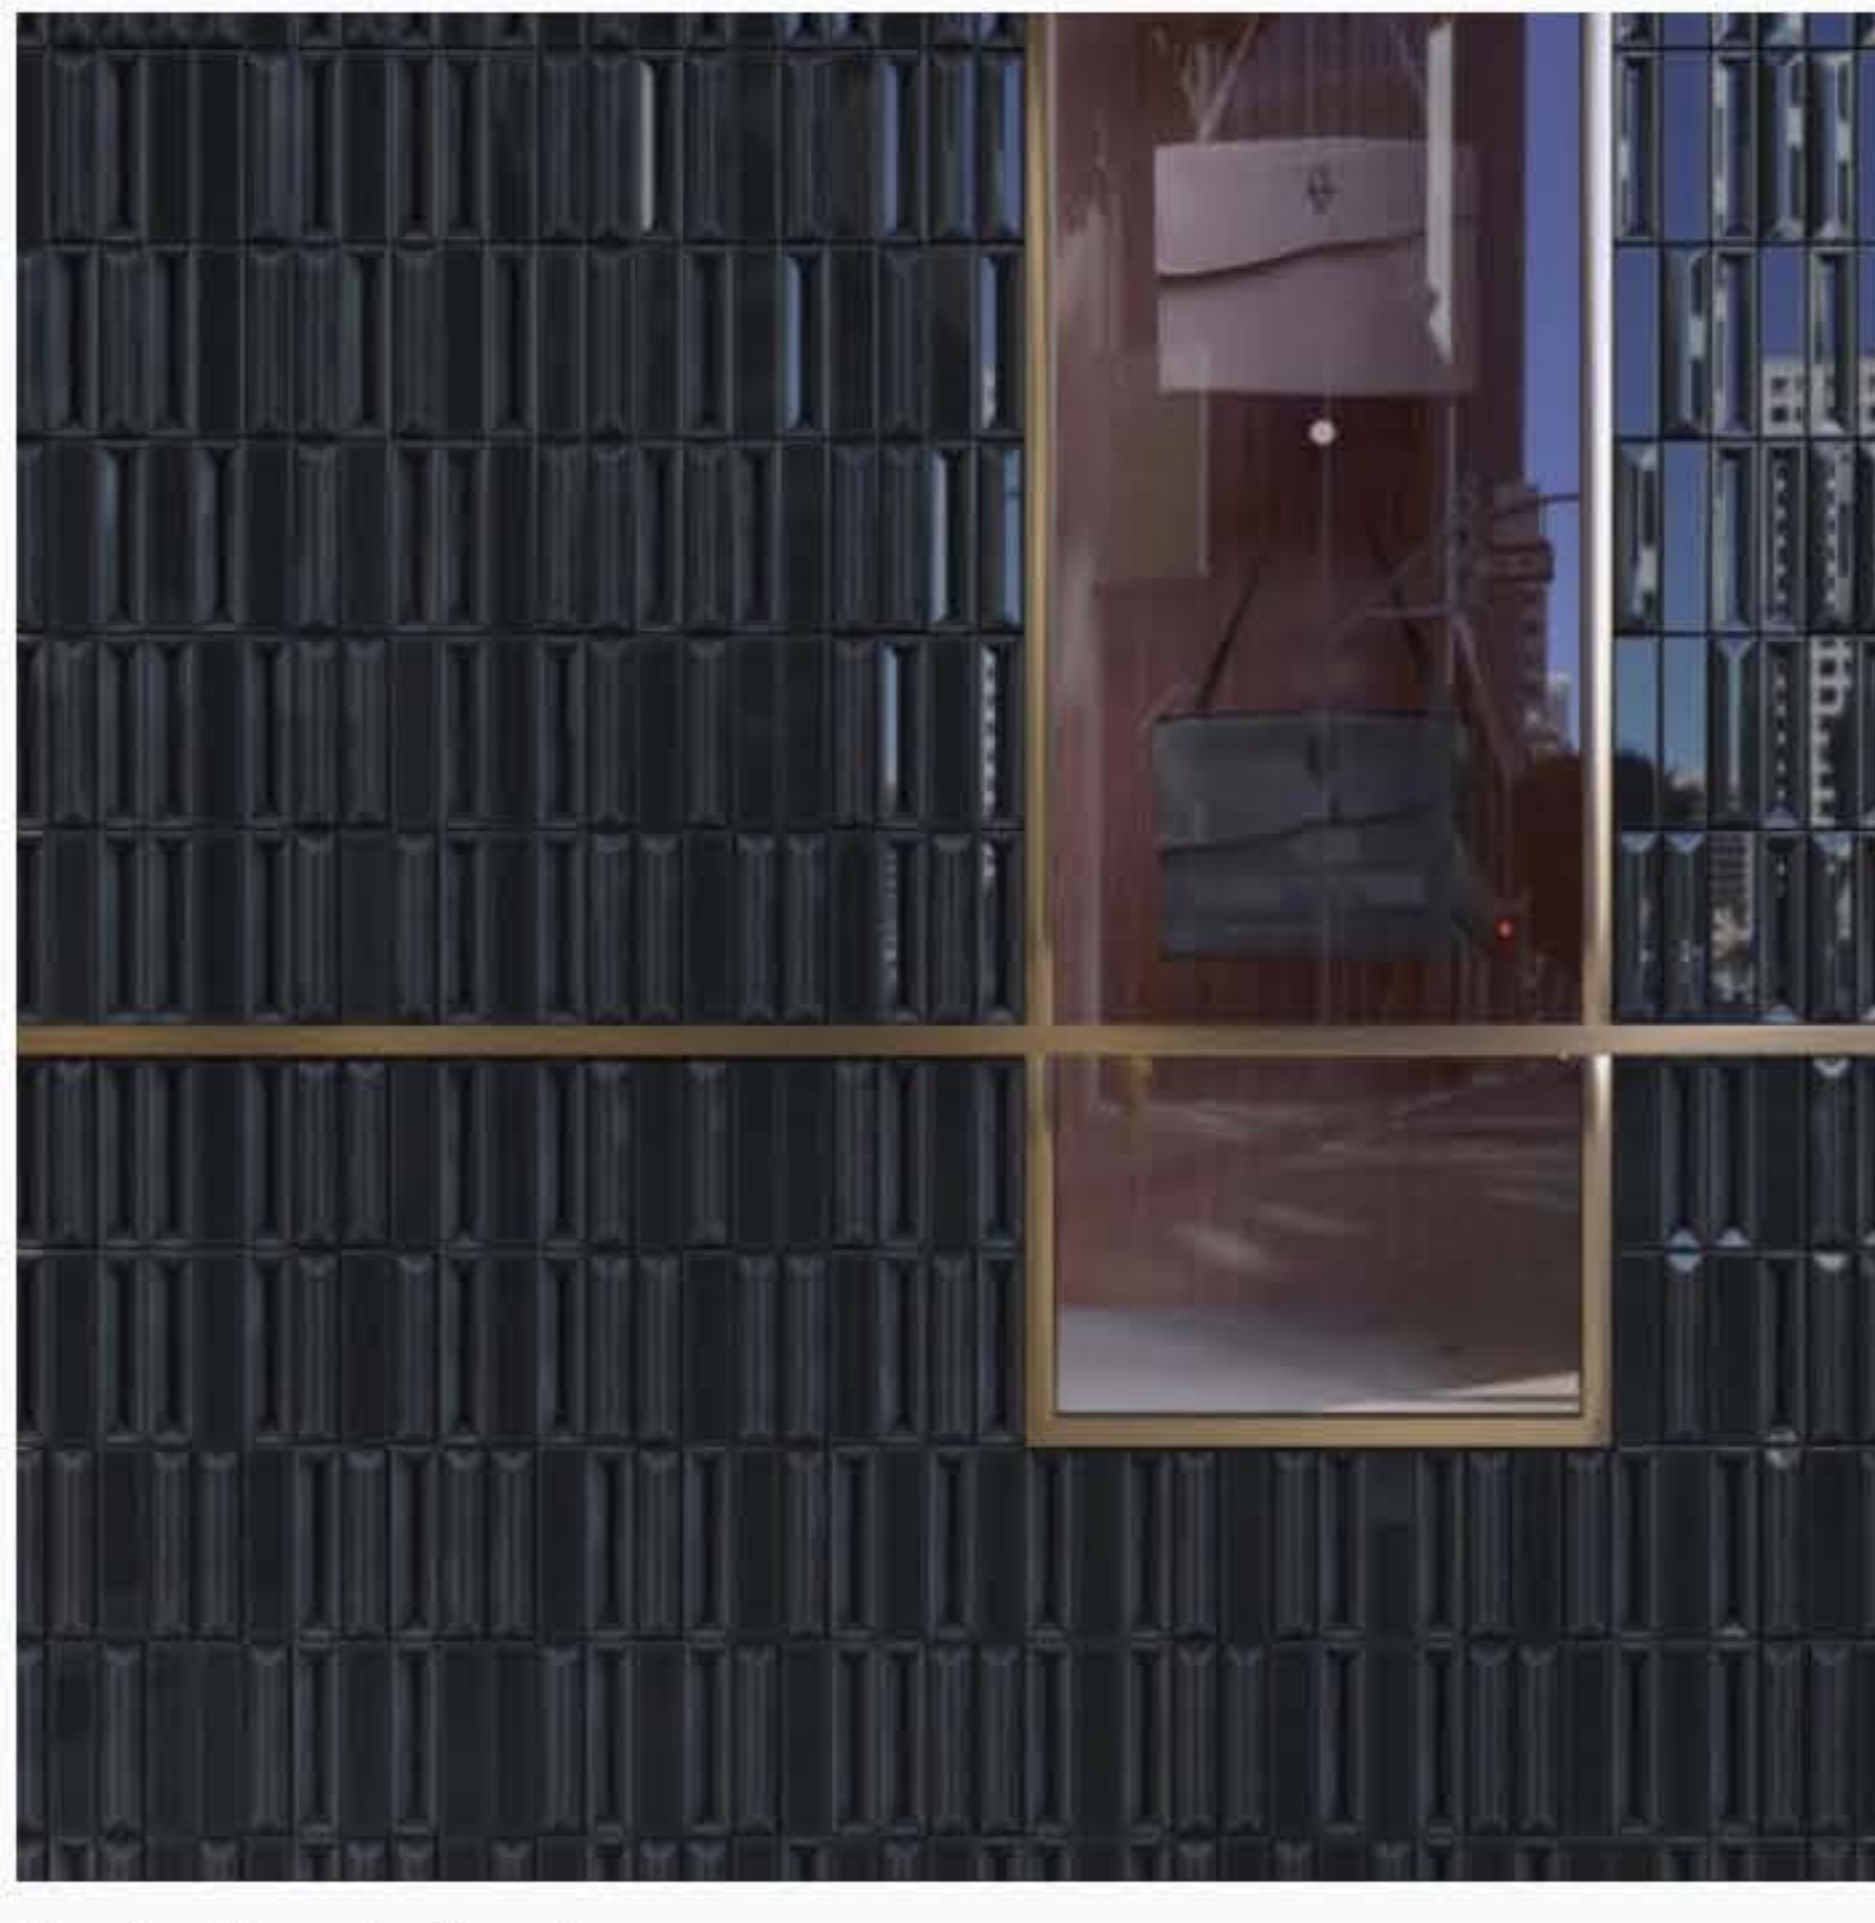

By The Editors • September 20, 2022 • Product, Source Material

(Courtesy Ceramica Vogue)

Much of the beauty of 19th-century architecture was surface-level. Far from being a criticism, the facades of these buildings—either in New York, Chicago, or London—were intricate tapestries of ceramic tiles, carvings, insignia, and other ornamentation. In recent years, manufacturers have returned to this time-tested material, and architects have begun using terra-cotta in ways more complex than their Victorian counterparts could have ever dreamed of. These products deliver dynamic and durable ceramic options for new projects looking to tie into this ancient practice.

(Courtesy Ceramica Vogue)

Flauti Collection

Ceramica Vogue

(Courtesy Terreal North America)

Autan Terracotta Sunscreen Baguette

Terreal North America

(Courtesy Panaria Ceramica)

Blade Collection

Panaria Ceramica

(Courtesy Shildan)

Terracotta Large Format Rainscreen

Shildan

(Courtesy Atlas Concorde)

Boost Natural

Atlas Concorde

Trending Now

- 1 New projects demonstrate how designers in California respond to increased fire risks
- 2 Architecture school deans opt out of annual DesignIntelligence survey
- 3 Future Firm designs a stylish eatery for Chicago's South Side Bronzeville neighborhood
- 4 Rice Architecture breaks ground on its Karamuk Kuo-designed William T. Cannady Hall
- 5 Amber Wiley named director of the Weitzman School of Design's Center for the Preservation of Civil Rights Sites
- 6 In Houston, work gets underway on a 3D-printed two-story home
- 7 Because of labor shortages, this Japanese dam is being built by robots

Firms are hiring. Reach real architects with the AIA Job Board. Connecting AEC Firms with job-seekers. Learn More

HEALTHCARE FACILITIES Architectural and Interiors
September 27-29 Long Beach, CA REGISTER NOW hecarefacilities.com

Popular Posts

- 1 Five design proposals for Bezos Learning Center open for public comment
- 2 Chicago Bears reveal tentative plans for new stadium in Arlington Heights
- 3 Because of labor shortages, this Japanese dam is being built by robots
- 4 Recent academic departures prompt changes for architectural education
- 5 The visions for NEOM reveal contemporary shortcomings
- 6 Should architects engage with carceral projects?
- 7 At the Met, the first posthumous show of Bernd and Hilla Bechers' photography showcases their influential oeuvre

Tripadvisor

Mama Shelter Paris East Paris Do €119 View more	Hotel Bridget Paris Do €106 View more
Generator Paris Paris Do €91 View more	Home MODERNE Paris Do €124 View more
Mama Shelter Paris East Paris View more

TRIPADVISOR.IT

Information
Contact
About
Advertise
Privacy Policy

Regions
International
West
Southwest
Midwest
East
Southeast
United States

Topics
AN INTERIOR
Architecture
Art
Design
Development
Preservation
Transportation
Urbanism

Newsletters
Late Editions (by region)
AN Interior
Facades+
CE Strong
Outdoor Spaces
Tech+
Trading Notes
Competitions

Conferences
Outdoor Spaces
Facades+
Tech+
TimberCon